Watch for how the preacher moves from Mary in Bethany to Jesus washing the disciples' feet in John 12 and 13, showing that faith becomes visible when it turns into service and love.

PARA REFLEXÃO

Notice the Setup

How does he describe the shift from the “parked” phase of research to actually getting in the car and driving?

It takes evidence to believe, but it takes action to live it out.

— Key Line

PARA REFLEXÃO

Mary's Act

What details make Mary's act of pouring out the perfume feel costly, personal, and intentional?

PARA REFLEXÃO

The Cost of Love

Why does he connect Mary's gift to service rather than just a symbolic gesture?

We are information rich, but sometimes action poor.

— Key Line

PARA REFLEXÃO

Judas Contrast

What contrast does he draw between Judas's question and Mary's generosity?

PARA REFLEXÃO

From Belief to Action

How does the preacher explain the difference between collecting evidence for faith and actually living faith out in motion?

PARA REFLEXÃO

Jesus' Example

How does Jesus' foot washing at the Passover meal echo what Mary did in Bethany?

If I, your Lord and teacher have washed your feet, you also ought to wash one another's feet.

PARA REFLEXÃO

Mission, Not Just Information

What does he mean when he says Jesus did not just give the disciples information, but mission?

PARA REFLEXÃO

The Church Today

How does he connect the sermon to New Hope's meals, Garden of Hope, and community service?

When we stop observing and start serving, we change the atmosphere of the room.

PARA REFLEXÃO

Personal Response

What would it look like for you to leave evidence of your faith through tangible love and service this week?

PARA REFLEXÃO

Final Challenge

How is the preacher challenging the church to make their faith visible so that others can see Jesus?

🔔 ORAÇÃO 🔔

Closing Prayer

Lord, help us move from belief to action. Make our love practical, our service joyful, and our witness clear so that our communities can see Jesus in us. Amen.
